The current financial transaction allows for the provision of financial resources to the company, ensuring its sustainability and profitability. The financial strategy aims to optimize the allocation of resources, enhance operational efficiency, and reduce costs. This approach is crucial in achieving long-term growth and competitive advantage. In this context, financial management plays a pivotal role in achieving strategic objectives and maximizing shareholder value.